CARTIER QUEEN'S CUP FINAL SUNDAY

Guards Polo Club - Zacara and Talandracas prepare to go head to head in this Sunday's Cartier Queen's Cup Final.

Zacara def. Enigma 11-8

Lyndon Lea's Zacara team moved into their second consecutive Cartier Queen's Cup Final after beating Jerome Wirth's Enigma 11-8 on The Queen's Ground at Guards Polo Club. They are the only team to remain unbeaten in this competition and have impressed with every game. Watching some of this match from the Royal Box was HRH The Princess Royal, who was visiting Guards Polo Club as the guest of the Riding For The Disabled organisation, for whom she is President.

Although Enigma did not take the lead at any time in this first semi-final, they were very much in contention throughout the six chukkas. There was some great play from the team's two Guillemos - Willington and Caset - while their patron, Jerome Wirth had a impressive game too, producing some strong and confident play. However Facundo Pieres was once again dominant for Zacara - he is the highest scoring professional in this tournament - and this match was no exception. He scored eight of his team's 11 goals and has some superb horsepower to complement his great game. Such a combination has proved difficult to beat this year and Zacara will head into Sunday's final favourites to retain the trophy in 2014.

Zacara's Matt Perry was named Most Valuable Player and Pieres received the Best Playing Pony Prize for his mare Moscow from Arnaud Bamberger, Executive Chairman of Cartier

Talandracas def. UAE Polo 10-9

Talandracas caused an upset when they knocked the highly fancied Dubai team out of the quarter-finals. They did the same again in the second semi-final, played on The Duke's Ground at Guards Polo Club. Edouard Carmignac's team kept their nerve in a close game over Sheikha Maitha's UAE Polo team to win 10-9 and earn their place in Sunday's final.

There had been little to choose between these two teams for much of the match - the scores were level 6-6 at half-time, and for a while it looked as if it was going to go to extra time. Unfortunately UAE Polo were forced to substitute Lucas Monteverde, who has been so strong for this team in this year's high-goal, due to an injury and his place was taken by Cristian "Magoo" Laprida in the second chukka. Although this did not seem to unsettle the team, Laprida threw himself into the game, such a change of team at this stage in the competition must have had an effect. Pablo MacDonough continued to battle through, strongly supported by the young Englishman Ollie Cudmore, and when you have a 10-goal player of his calibre on the field one should never predict the final result, especially when the scores are so close.

However Polito Pieres and his super fast ponies, a combination which has been instrumental in Talandracas's success - continued to impress in this game. He produced some great runs down the field - the second half saw plenty of open, running polo - and by scoring eight of his team's goals this afternoon has ensured Edouard Carmignac's side are through to a final showdown against Zacara this Sunday. Of course Carmignac is no stranger to Queen's Cup glory though, as he won the prestigious Cup in 2011.

Polito Pieres was named Most Valuable Player and Electo, a six-year-old stallion played by Pablo MacDonough was named Best Playing Pony. They received their prizes from Carrie Perrodo, who also presented the Hubert Perrodo Trophy to winning patron Edouard Carmignac. Hubert Perrodo was the patron of the high-goal Labegorce polo team, which won the Queen's Cup in 2004 and this Cup is played for in his memory. (game report by Diana Butler)

Sunday morning at 11am, Lucchese and El Remanso will play for the Cartier Trophy (sub final)

PRESTONWOOD USPA NATIONAL YOUTH TOURNAMENT SERIES QUALIFIER - FINAL JUNE 7-8

The Prestonwood USPA National Youth Tournament Series Qualifier was held Saturday & Sunday June 7-8th with a record 16 kids from Dallas, Midland, El Paso, and Pennsylvania playing. Round one was the feature match for Polo for the Planet Saturday evening June 7.

With a record crowd in attendance, spectators watched the Belmont stakes live followed by two exciting NYTS games. In the first game Eagles Landing defeated Paloma Creek 7-3 and pitted 2 former NYTS All-Stars Jack McLean VS Vaughn Miller Jr. The scorers for Eagles Landing were Vaughn Miller Jr (4 goals) Johan Felhaber (2 goals) and Vance Miller III (1 goal). For Paloma Creek the scorers were Jack McLean (1 goal) Cindy Faulkenhausen (1 goal) and Jeff Ortiz (1 goal).

In the second game after the popular halftime champagne divot stomp, Cross Oaks defeated Providence 10-1, scorers for Cross Oaks were Ronnie Puente (5 goals) Mailicia Faulkenhausen (3 goals) and Fritz Felhaber (2 goals). A nice rain came through Dallas and cooled off the hot Texas weather for the finals on Sunday June 8. Cross Oaks defeated Eagles Landing 5-3 to win the tournament.

Great team effort was given by all players and the games were fast and exciting to watch. In the final, scorers for Cross Oaks were Ronnie Puente (3 goals) John Hand (1 goal) and Fritz Felhaber (1 goal) and for Eagles Landing Vaughn Miller Jr (3 goals).

STORY BY HAYLEY HEATLEY

Antelope/Film Finance made their third twelve goal final appearance Sunday against Cotterel/Long Beach. The first chukker was fast and furious setting the tone for the rest of the match. Patrick Uretz was on fire scoring 3 goals in the first.

The fast polo proved to be favorable to Ruben Coscia and Marcos Llambias who quickly answered each goal by the opposing team. Antelope/Film Finance maintained a 1 goal lead going into half time 8-7.

The fast pace continued throughout the 4th and 5th chukkers. Antelope/Film Finance pulled ahead in the 5th to lead 12-9. Early in the 6th chukker Marcos Llambias took control of the game scoring 3 goals in addition to a goal scored by Ruben Coscia.

The game was down to the wire, but Jesse Bray broke the tie, scoring on a fast breakaway. Santi Trotz' horse Centella won Best Playing Pony. Patrick Uretz won MVP.
